HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN STARTS WITH GIFTS TOTALING $77,794

FIRST MEETING OF WORKERS IS BIG

Large Room At Elks Club Is Jammed Full Of Enthusiastic Hospital Workers When Drive For Building Fund Is Started

CHAIRMAN K. W. IS PLEASED

"Bill" High, Curator of the Elks Club, Has Great Time Feeding A Hundred More Hospital Hustlers Than He Expected, But All Are Well Satisfied

The hospital campaign got off with a running start last evening when the large room at the Elks club was jammed full of workers who turned in for the first report a total of $77,794. Great applause and rejoicing greeted this splendid showing.

Kerfoot W. Daly, general chairman of the entire campaign, announced that the executive committee had sold $75,155 in the campaign, but turned back $12,000 of subscriptions to the organization because they represented gifts of the workers secured in advance of last night's meeting. A thunderbolt of approving applause acknowledged the splendid work of Chairman Daly and his associates.

This morning all the workers started out to solicit. They had only a half day to work as the workers met at noon today. All meetings will be held at noon from now on until the campaign is over at 12 o'clock at the Elks Club.

It was an enthusiastic meeting last evening of the workers if there ever was such a thing, was the general report. They sang and yelled and cheered and subscribed and boosted the hospital in every way. Chairman Daly told them there was no doubt about getting the hospital if they all worked hard for the next few days.

Vice Chairman J. D. Erryman of the executive committee made a splendid address to open the program of the meeting. He declared that God was with the workers in this drive to get a building fund for a fireproof building because the need was so great. "Work hard," declared Mr. Erryman, "and He will see you through to victory."

President John B. Schafer of the board of directors of the Charleroi Monessen hospital made a short talk in which he said that it had been the greatest ambition of the directors to see that a new hospital was secured by raising the money for a building fund.

Burgess Tussing, sales manager of the citizens organization of workers for the hospital, was introduced by Chairman Daly to preside over the men and women who had been recruited to work under his direct supervision. Manager Tussing appealed to all to make the sacrifice necessary in time to see the people and win the campaign.

William Feeney, of the Mines division of the drive, addressed the meeting briefly, ably appealing for whole-hearted activity by all to the end that the money might be raised.

MEN OWE LIVES TO WEAK-HEARTED THUG

Pittsburgh, August 5.—Four unidentified men, alleged operators of a moonshine plant in Franklin township, narrowly escaped death when masked and armed thugs bound them to a bed, saturated the place with gasoline and set fire to it.

Three of the men were slightly burned before one of the thugs, too chicken-hearted to see the men die such a horrible death, returned and unloosed the bonds of one of the men so he might save the others.

The affair is believed to be the outcome of a moonshiner's war; one for one dollar, Kirk and Clark. 512*

Thief Is Foiled In His Attempt To Purloin Merchandise

DESPONDENT WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Despondency was believed to be the cause of the suicide of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hall, who shot and killed herself Saturday evening at 7:30 at her home on Ogden street, in Connelville. Her husband, D. H. Hall, who was sitting on the porch when he heard the shot, and upon rushing upstairs found his wife sitting on a bed with her waist on fire and a bullet hole in her breast. She was dead when her husband reached her. A 32 caliber revolver was used by the woman.

She was the widow of John Archer, a Baltimore and Ohio policeman, who was killed in a gun battle with a gang of thieves, near Star City, W. Va., on January 19, 1922 and the weapon she used in her self destruction had been presented to her husband by the head of the police.

He said the hospital would be a big help to the miners.

The singing was under the direction of Warren Kinder and Mrs. J. E. Wilson presided at the piano. Their work added a lot to the program of the evening.

The campaign plans were outlined by M. P. Neighbor, campaign director of the Hockenbury System Inc., of Harrisburg, Pa.

The drive is for $150,000 for a new fireproof building for a hospital here. More is needed and it may be that the total will easily be boosted to $250,000.

Offices of the campaign are in the Municipal building and are open daily from eight in the morning until ten at night to accommodate all workers whenever it best suits them to call at the office and get names of people listed for them to see.

Baird Sues Gas Company; Claims $450

John F. Laird, of this place, has brought suit against the Greensboro Gas company, in which he claims $450 which he alleged is due for rent for a store room, occupied for the past several years by the defendant gas company. The rent was originally $60 a month, but at the expiration of the lease was raised to $150. The gas company continued to occupy the room, but no extension lease agreement was entered into.

Spencer Rhodes has filed a suit against Joseph Serenta of Marianna in which he claims $817.40, which he avers is due as an auto mechanic for the defendant. He avers that under the agreement he was to receive the sum of $45 a week and be furnished a car to go back and forth from his home to work. He claims there is due him $615 in wages and $192 expenses incurred in the use of this car. 512*

You Can Aid The Disabled War Veteran

Hon. James T. Heffran is in receipt of a communication dated Pittsburgh, August 1, in which the commission to make investigation of the condition of the disabled World War veterans invokes information of, and seeks to assist them.

The slogan of the commission is "Service to the Disabled Ex-Service Man," and there are probably cases in this community which require assistance, particularly in the questions of compensation and hospitalization. It is the intention and the desire of the commission to assist in every possible manner at its disposal, in the adjudication of the claims of ex-soldiers who were disabled in the World war.

People being cognizant of cases coming under the heads aforementioned, will confer a favor by communicating or personally informing Mr. Heffran, who will in turn inform the commission of the facts concerning the disabled.

SON OF POSTMASTER HIKES TO CHICAGO FOR MURDER CASE

John Hill, son of Postmaster and Mrs. S. D. R. Hill, June graduate of Charleroi High school, hiked to Chicago in two and one-half days, and is now witnessing the Leopold-Loeb murder case, which is in session.

In writing home he says he received many lifts going over the National Pike through Columbus, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, a distance of over 600 miles.

The young man expects to hike throughout that section of the country and will probably be gone for several weeks.

THE CHAUTAUQUA CLOSES YESTERDAY

The Swarthmore Chautauqua closed its program at the Pines with the programs of yesterday afternoon and last night. The sessions were all well attended, and insofar as we have heard, the patrons of the course are a unit in their praise of the efforts of the artists comprising the program, whether they be musicians or lecturers.

The same bureau will furnish the Chautauqua next year. To date 64 guarantors have been secured, thus assuring its coming.

A NEMACOLIN FIRE DOES BIG DAMAGE

Property was damaged to the extent of $12,000 when fire destroyed the home of James Sanders, his garage, two automobiles and furniture, in Nemacolin early Saturday morning. The cause of the fire could not be determined.

The conflagration started before the Sanders family had arisen. Sanders' home was destroyed by fire two years ago.

Certain Class Of Mechanics Are Very Busy

Despite the dearth of employment which has been and is still existent in the manufacturing industries of this community, hard times have not apparently visited the carpenters, the lathers, the bricklayers, the plasterers, and all who have part and parcel in the construction of buildings, whether they be residences or business structures. In North Charleroi and in Charleroi buildings of diversified nature are going up at a rate that bespeaks the confidence which people generally hold for the future of the community. Lot sales and sales of properties, residences and otherwise, while probably not as brisk as they were in the spring or during the winter past, is still enlivening to the extent as to augur well for the wealth of the community, whether it be in Charleroi borough proper, or North Charleroi.

There is still a demand for houses and apartments to lease, but the condition is not quite so strenuous as it was during the past winter and in the spring. People are getting away from the renting idea pretty much, and are trying to buy and pay for their homes. Of course, when this new plot of ground between here and Speers is opened for lots' sales there is going to be a rush, without doubt. There are plenty of improved properties for sale in Charleroi and North Charleroi, but a number of them are beyond the means of prospective buyers.

AN AUTO HITS A BRIDGE WALL

Frank Palma of Gastonville, and Ralph Peterson, of near Coal Bluff, were badly injured yesterday in an automobile accident on the Finleyville-Gastonville highway when their machine, a touring car, crashed into a bridge wall and went over an embankment, where the car turned on its side.

Palma suffered a broken collarbone and probably a broken finger, while Peterson, driver of the machine, sustained a deep gash across his skull. The car was badly wrecked. The accident occurred when Palma was attempting to drive the machine from his seat next to the driver and was unable to make a turn as the car approached the bridge.

Coyle Field Filled Last Night With Probably the Largest Throng Ever Assembling There — Parade Traverses Two Boroughs

FIREMEN MAKING MONEY

Patronage Accruing As a Result of Bazaar's Giving. It Is Thought, Will Liquidate Indebtedness On Truck—Those Who Took Part In Parade

To the strains of patriotic music as given by the Monessen Cornet band, further amplified by the Belle Vernon Fife and Drum corps, the bazaar, as given by the North Charleroi Fire department last night, parade night, reached its greatest height of success, the crowd at Coyle's field being the largest probably, of any ever assembling there occasion of any function. The parade was formed in Railroad street, near the postoffice, headed by the Monessen band and fire department, and traversed first, Lock View making a loop and returning by way of McKean avenue extension, marched to Third street, Charleroi, returning to the grounds by way of Lincoln avenue. The parade was formed as follows:

North Charleroi Borough council, with P. E. Franks, burgess. Monessen band. Monessen truck with 53 men. Charleroi truck, with 22 men. Donora truck, with 17 men. Fredericktown truck, with 17 men. Belle Vernon truck, 30 men. North Belle Vernon truck, 25 men. Fayette City truck, 25 men. West Brownsville truck, 25 men. North Charleroi truck, 20 men. Citizens of the borough and community in automobiles bringing up the rear.

By the time the parade disbanded at the grounds on its return, they were filled to overflowing, and the patronage at the various attractions was such that the firemen were well satisfied with the results of their efforts. The dance pavilion—in fact all the amenities and enjoyable things at the grounds found favor, and the hour was late before the crowd, which surged hither and thither on the spacious grounds, disbanded and left for their homes. Nearly all of the concourse stayed to see the special death-defying act.

The success of the bazaar, or as some term it, carnival, has been such that we are informed that it will be continued the remainder of the week, thus affording all the people opportunity to attend each night, or at such times as they can and enjoy an evening of pleasure unalloyed.

ROADSIDE WATER SUPPLY TO BE SAFE

Harrisburg, Aug. 5.—The state health department today announced it has assumed supervision over the roadside water supply to make it safe for drinking purposes.

A traveling laboratory is making a tour of the state in charge of experts and the various wells and springs along state highways are being tested to determine whether the germs of typhoid are lurking there.

"The water supply of roadside inns, eating stands, and oil stations are now a real menace to health of the traveling public," declared Dr. C. C. Bull, deputy of health, declared in a statement today.

The danger of typhoid has been practically removed from the city to the country, according to Dr. Turnbull who bases this fact upon statistics for the past 10 years.

"The development of the automobile and the construction of thousands of miles of good roads has produced a new water supply problem," he said. "Motorists drinking from rural sources, converting them to safe."

He uses, have raised the problem of preventing the spread of typhoid from the country back to the city. The death rate from typhoid fever has been reduced from 54.8 per 100,000 in 1906 to 4.8 per 100,000 in 1923, Mr. Turnbull states.

"At that time typhoid was a disease of the cities where large numbers of people could be infected from polluted public water supplies. The country well or spring is now the dangerous water supply; the public supplies of our cities and boroughs are comparatively safe."

The water supplies that are tested are proved will be marked with an enameled marker similar in color to automobile license tags.

FOUR BANDITS EXECUTED FOR MURDER OF WOMAN

Mexico City, Aug. 5.—Four of the most vicious bandits who ever lived Mrs. Rosalie Evans, woman ranch owner and a British subject, were executed by Federal Scouts yesterday and summarily executed, according to private messages here today.
Mrs. Evans was murdered as she was returning to her ranch in Puebla Saturday and the payroll she was carrying was stolen.
Meantime, the government was active in investigating the tragedy, believing it may have been inspired by political plotters.

The assassination of Mrs. Evans was planned in San Antonio, Texas, the newspaper El Sol said, intimating the crime was part of a plan of one of the revolutionary juntas to embarrass the Obregon government.

"THE PLUNDERER"

AT THE MAJESTIC

With a wealth of romance and picturesque background, the William Fox screen version of Roy Norton's story,
"The Plunderer," comes to the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. In addition to this, the picture is one of the most spectacular which has come here this season. A flood scene in which a huge reservoir is dynamited to destroy a little mining town and extraordinary battles between primitive men, provide enough thrills for the most avid picture fan.

Frank Mayo, one of the most popular stars of the screen, has the leading role. In the cast are Evelyn Brent,
Tom Sanstchi, James Mason, Peggy
Shaw, Edward Phillips and Dan Mason.
The picture was directed by George Archainbaud and most of the scenes were filmed in the southwestern gold country. The exciting life of the time is caught with clever realism and the cast performs with the ability which is to be expected from performers who starred on the stage before they became bright spots in the film firmament.
Its romance will appeal to young and old and its action unquestionably will hold every patron of the pictures.

The cast is one of the best ever assembled.
In addition to "Son of the Sahara," a good comedy will be featured,
"Call the Wagon." Neal Burns is the featured player, supported by Charlotte Morrison and other Charlotte players.
Neal is cast as the lover who, to get rid of his rivals, tricks them into believing that their sweetheart is possessed of the false aids to beauty.
She discovers the trick and then plays it on burns, who has to feign insanity to break the engagement.
The comedy is full of the fast action that has characterized the recent Christie comedies. The direction was by Scott Sidney.

A Washington correspondent, off the Chicago Tribune estimates that La-Follette's campaign will cost his followers between three and five millions and that the rest of $15,000,000 will be expended by the Republican and Democratic National committees. No guess is offered as to the amounts the five other parties will spend. It costs money to secure a President, and as often as not the most of us fail of enthusiasm for him when we get him.

ed bout between Leonard and Walker for the world's welterweight title were signed in the office of the boxing commission at New York yesterday. The bout will be held at the Yankee stadium on Thursday evening, August 20, or in case of rain the customers will come on Friday night August 22.

MURDER OF WOMAN FURTHER STRAINS THE RELATIONS

Mexico City, August 4.—The brutal assassination of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, a British subject, on the road near her ranch in the state of Puebla, has brought Anglo-Mexican relations to the most strained point in years, in the opinion of British residents here today.

A stiff note of protest is expected from the British government.
Since diplomatic relations between the two countries virtually were broken off several weeks ago by expulsion of British Diplomatic Agent Cummins, because of his activity in Mrs.
Evans' behalf, inquiry into the murder has been placed in the hands of the American charge d'affaires.

Mrs. Evans was shot and killed Saturday while returning to her ranch with the payroll of her employers. Her manager, a German, named John Straus, was dangerously wounded. The payroll, about 2,000 pesos, was stolen. It is believed the assassins are members of the agrarian party who had been persecuting Mrs. Evans for months.

Mrs. Evans was riding toward her ranch with Straus when a party of Agrarista bandits dashed up and began firing.

The ranch woman was struck in the back and chest and fell from the buggy. Her hair caught in a wheel and she was dragged some distance.

The bandits seized the payroll, which Mrs. Evans had just drawn from the bank of San Martin and rode away, leaving the woman's dead body in the road not far from Straus, who was unconscious.

A Spaniard found the bodies and called authorities.

The murder created a sensation in Mexico City owing to publicity given the Evans case when Cummins was expelled from Mexico. The diplomatic agent had been active in Mrs. Evans' behalf and it was this fact that led to a dispute with the government ending in his expulsion.

President Obregon has promised a full statement on the case today.

Socotra Is Not Often Visited by Westerners.

Washington, D. C.—"Socotra, isolated island off the northeastern point of Africa, where a lighthouse keeper is rumored to have been the victim of cannibals, has always been associated with much pleasanter thoughts than man-eating savages," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"For it is the 'Isle of Frankincense' from which once came most of the pleasant, aromatic gum burned as incense in the churches and temples of both the West and East. It is even possible that one of the gifts of the Magi to the infant Jesus came from Socotra, for in the past the island was almost the sole source of this highly prized gum.

Socotrans Long Civilized.

"The suggestion that there are cannibals on Socotra is somewhat surprising. The island people became at least superficially civilized ages ago through the influence of gum traders. They were at one time Christians but have been Mohammedans. They are ruled by a sultan under British protection. Nor is the island small; it is nearly half as large as Crete or Porto Rico.

"Socotra is not often visited by Westerners, but this is rather because of the religious jealousy of the sultan than because of any danger from the natives. The latter were described a few years ago by a visitor writing for the National Geographic Society as 'a kindly folk, hospitable and quite harmless.'

"Continuing, he wrote: 'Hadibo, the capital, or Tamarida, as the Arabs call it, from Tamar, the date-fruit tree, is a collection of flat-roofed white houses scattered among the palms. The sultan's 'palace' is a large mud structure with flat towers, and the two prayer houses are suggestive of the graceful Arab mosques only by contrast. The poorer population, chiefly of African descent and much older in the history of the island than its Arab aristocracy, lives in huts of thorn and plastered grass, invariably over-run with luxuriant gourd vines. Surrounded by tiny garden plots, in which tobacco, or native tobacco, lentils, melons, and yams grow abundantly, they are more picturesque outside than inside.

"There is not much to be seen in Hadibo. The principal amusement afforded the visitor is that of being seen.

Touche of Pastoral Beauty.

"Nothing could be lovelier than the sight of slender Socotran cattle grazing knee deep among the grasses and the palm branches that line the banks of the lagoons near Hadibo. Clouds massed above and mountains near by lend long shadows dappling the water, and the sun turning to gold the tawny flanks of the cattle make a picture of pastoral beauty rare to behold in this part of the East.

"Today Socotra exports practically nothing except gill, a rancid butter, made from goat's milk and highly prized in Zanzibar. The inhabitants number about 5,000, and the bulk of them are of African descent, though Bedouins live in the mountain caves, and the ruling class is Arab. The language is distinct in itself, though possessing many Arabic and Mahri words. It has a wondrous wealth of gurgles and impossible noises in the throat. There are no words for horse or dog, because these animals are not found on the island. A fine breed of camels, and donkeys, which are the tamed sons of the wild asses roaming in thousands on the interior plains are the beasts of burden.

"The Socotrans are for the most part a pastoral people, living upon their flocks and herds. They have neither inclination or skill for the industrial arts. The baskets they weave and their earthen pots, fashioned with a bit of coconut rind in lieu of a potter's wheel, are rude imitations of the southern Arab's handiwork. Those who live by the sea catch fish or dive for mother-of-pearl. They have a most ingenious 'telescope' for spying out the wonders that lie at the ocean's bottom. It is simply a kerosene oil can, 'made in America,' with a sheet of glass set into one side. Into the opposite side the observer thrusts his head, and with the glass bottom well down in the water he is rowed slowly back and forth, mouth and eyes well protected from the salt water, which further serves him as a magnifying lens."

Catches 100-Pound Fish in Back Yard; Feeds 112

Pana, Ill.—That the biggest ones do not always get away was proven by George Swiney of Findlay, who recently at a fish fry entertained 112 friends on the meat of a single 100-pound fish which he caught in a small pond on his own back lot. The fish had been deposited there by the waters of the Kaskaskia river during the overflow and backup. As Swiney remarks, "Why go to Florida for tarpon fishing when they come to your own back door begging to be caught?"

Reindeer on Menu

Seattle, Wash.—To advertise an Alaska railroad will feature reindeer steaks in its dining cars this summer. It is hoped tourists will go back to the states converted to this meat.

A Norfolk, Va., woman insists that since her husband left home the hens won't lay. Now what will the psychoanalysts make of that? Wireless maternity effective only at short range?

LEAGUE OF NATIONS AIDS STUDENT WORK

Collates Information on Colleges and Universities.

Geneva—Useful information concerning world universities is contained in the first quarterly publication of the international office of university intelligence, which was recently created as a new co-operative feature of the League of Nations.

These publications will endeavor to co-ordinate in compact form international university information and fulfill the purpose of the new office, which is that of serving as a bridge between the higher institutions of learning in all countries.

They will relate the exchange of professors and students, list the books of interest to university people, and catalogue the administrative measures adopted by various universities concerning the conditions under which foreigners may follow courses of study, explain scholarships, the tuition conditions affecting foreigners and set forth the special courses which may be open to them.

The first number of the review publishes the results of an inquiry among international students associations on students from one country to another; the conditions under which students work abroad, and questions touching university courses in general.

Under the heading, "University Information," appears the text of a convention on the mutual exchange of students between five countries of Central America, communications sent in by the national university offices of the United States, England, Denmark, Spain, France, Holland and Switzerland, and notices from various international associations of students.

Has Drawn Pictures of Bugs for Twelve Years

Miss Esther Hastings Hart, insect delineator of the bureau of entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, at work on a pen and ink drawing of the dipterous Acrocyrtus, a useful bug that preys upon the Hessian fly, so injurious to the wheat crop. This is only one of hundreds of bugs drawn by Miss Hart during her 12 years' service. Her subjects range in size from a speck of dirt, only visible through a microscope, to bugs measuring several inches in length.

1,500 Indians to Get $10,000,000 of Land

Aberdeen, Wash.—Approximately 1,500 Indians of the Quinault reservation will share about $10,000,000 worth of timber land, it was estimated recently, as a result of the Supreme court decision whereby the allotment policy of the Department of Indian Affairs for the past 12 years is rendered invalid. Each Indian's share by this computation is about $6,700.

The territory to be allotted to the Indians constitutes about three-quarters of the reservation area. The remaining fourth was allotted prior to suspension of allotments as agricultural and grazing land.

Work of allotment will be started immediately, according to advices from Charles H. Burke, Indian commissioner at Washington. The lands to be allotted include some of the finest tracts of standing timber in the state.

Politeness Costly

Seattle, Wash.—Politeness cost Robert R. Fields, a steamship employee, his month's wages here. He boarded a street car to visit a park and encountered a woman friend, doffed his hat. The money, which he had secreted in the hat band, fell out, he reported.

Parcel Post Brings Lizard From Germany

Philadelphia.—A lizard from Germany, picked up in the Kiel canal and said to be a rare specimen, arrived recently by parcel post from Bamberg, consigned to a scientific institution. The lizard was none the worse for the long journey by land and sea, for when the package was opened by the customs examiners—he jumped out and the federal officers scattered. He was finally captured, but not until he had lost part of his tail.

body, covered with numerous spots and when angered his tail coiled up like a watch spring.

As one observer sees it, much uncertainty is contributed to this political campaign by "farmers, labor, independents, Ku Klux and women voters." What percentage of the last named, for example, will take the trouble to vote at all.

Canada's Resorts Meet Every Sort of Vacation Demand

Camping, canoeing, fishing, hunting, alpine climbing and "roughing it" appeal to many as ideal ways in which to enjoy their summer vacations, and if they can do these things in Canada, so much the better. There is, however, another host of older, more sedate souls who also desire an annual change of scene and residence, yet who wish to spend their vacation days in surroundings approximating the comforts of home. These, Canada can also take care of.

St. Andrews-by-the-Sea is one of the most attractive North Atlantic coast resorts. This New Brunswick village boasts a fine hotel, the Algonquin, a huge structure facing the sea on three sides. Fine golf courses, that for excellence vie with those of St. Andrews in Scotland; boating and bathing in Passamaquoddy Bay; tennis and bowling on the green; motoring or driving to many interesting points over fine roads that often run for miles through deep woods, are delights that appeal to those who visit St. Andrews summer after summer.

Just over the Vermont border in Quebec, 83 miles from Montreal, are two lovely lakes, Magog and Mephremagog, and the little village of Magog which offers a delightful retreat in the Hermitage Country Club Inn for seekers after health, rest and mild exercise. The Owl's Head and Mt. Orford afford not too strenuous climbing, while boating and bathing are the chief pastimes.

HE HATH REPAYED.

The murderers of Constable William A. O. Cratty of North Charleroi have paid the price of their crime with their lives. This fact will, in a degree, appease the wrath of the populace and maybe furnish satisfaction to those near and dear bereft. Their deaths but confirm the scriptural admonition of "Vengeance Is Mine; I Will Repay." The passing of the colored man is not a new lesson. We cannot recall to worldly usefulness the life of him who was sacrificed on the altar of law's devotion, but we can comment on means and measures to preclude to a certain extent future fatalities of like nature here.

Among them are the educating of the degenerate colored man, his christianizing, which will mean the making of him a better citizen. Little can be accomplished with a degenerate, colored or white, unless moral agencies are brought into play, and in which humanity, individually and collectively, can have a part. It is not enough for moralists and followers of the better life to pray for the lost, they must go out into the highways and byways and reclaim lost humanity. No man is so deeply impregnated with sin but that such sins can be made "whiter than snow."

One great reason for crime is the prevalence at this time of a dearth of employment. "An idle brain is the devil's workshop." Give the colored man work, and the white man work, and there will be less of crime and fewer criminals. If he is in the mire of social degradation, keeping him there is not a moral agency, but acts contrawise. He loses interest in the better things, for no man is so low but that there is some good in him, somewhere, and it is for the respectable element to life the fallen and through every honorable means to show him that there is redemption for him, even as there was life for the thief on the cross. We cannot minimize crime and outlawry by anaesthetizing the colored man and the low-down white man, but it can be done if moral agencies get busy and show that they have something besides faith. For faith without works is dead; is sounding brass and tinkling cymbal.

COOLIDGE'S ATTITUDE.

Pennsylvania is proud of the fact that President Coolidge's position on law enforcement is well-known. His affirmative attitude on the retention of General Butler in Philadelphia has heartened the friends of law enforcement in this state.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis has consistently supported the chief executive of this nation, and his attitude is an asset of incalculable worth to the federal government. It is regrettable that all such subordinates in the federal service as Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair and Commissioner Haynes should continue to be serious liabilities, to which the friends of law enforcement have applied in vain for effective action against the bootlegging industry in Pennsylvania.

The Democrats of the Rhode Island Legislature say the Republican Senators ran away to prevent a quorum and block legislation. The fugitive Senators say they ran away to escape being blown up with a bomb, but do not explain why it was necessary to flee all the way across the lone into Massachusetts. Governor Flynn complains to Governor Cox of "the outrageous action of the State police of Massachusetts," who, though with knowledge of their identity caused "certain Rhode Island officials" to be arrested and placed under bail as "suspicious characters." The Springfield Republican submits that Massachusetts has "the most pacific and most neutral intentions" toward the Senators from a sister commonwealth "who have sought asylum within its borders." Can the history of American politics show anything as preposterous as this whole thing?

It is estimated that half the people who had a right to vote four years ago failed to do so. It would be interesting to know how these were divided as to sex and how they would have voted if they had voted. Plainly they could have changed the result if they had been so minded. Similar indifference on the part of vast numbers this year also may be reasonably expected.

Deeds of Young Men

Blazoned in History

Alexander the Great licked over the world at twenty-three. Over in Carthage, when they needed a commander in chief for all the armies, they picked on a youngster by the name of Hannibal—and he was twenty-six. Columbus had plans for his voyage all laid when he was twenty-eight—and failed to get started only because he couldn't convince his elders. John Smith, the first of the line, staked out his colonial empire in Virginia when he should have been serving an apprenticeship somewhere. He was twenty-seven. A visionary young man, Martin Luther by name, was just past thirty when he started the Protestant Reformation. Luther was joined by John Calvin, who was twenty-one. Calvin wrote one of his greatest books at twenty-three. Joan of Arc, when she was seventeen, emerged from obscurity in France, made her way to the leadership of the nation, and at nineteen was burned at the stake.

Patrick Henry cried "liberty or death" when he was twenty-seven. Hamilton was thirty-two when he was made the secretary of the treasury and laid the plans for America's national banking system. A youngster of twenty-six discovered the law of gravitation. The first American model airplane, built by Wilbur Wright, was finished here at twenty-nine. And that's only the beginning of the list!—Stanley High, in Collier's.

Difference as to

"Cat and Dog" Law

Animal pets may on occasion scratch, bite, and commit other injuries, and the owner's liability for damage will vary according to the nature of the animal.

It is much more risky to keep a monkey or an elephant than a dog; while cats, which in natural history primers are described as "of the tiger kind," are more favored by the law than almost any domestic pet.

Generally speaking, the first question asked by the law is whether the animal is fierce by nature. If so, its owner is liable for damage whether he knew of its vicious propensities or not, and it is immaterial whether he was careful or negligent.

A tame menagerie elephant and a pet monkey have been held to be animals fierce and vicious.

Although their ancestors were indubitably fierce, cats and dogs, as a result of many generations of domesticity, are now regarded as friendly to mankind. An injured plaintiff must show that the owner knew of the animal's vicious propensity toward mankind, and that with such knowledge he was negligent in the custody of it.

Geyers Aid to Farmers

Geyers are proving useful adjuncts to farming in Iceland. A well-known dye works in that country linked up its factory with water pipes direct from the hot springs and, after using the hot water in the color processes and for heating the factory and the workmen's homes, conducted it through underground pipes laid in fields, which, as a result, yielded three times as much produce as neighboring fields not so equipped, says the Kansas City Star.

Although, from time immemorial, the Icelanders have been familiar with geyers, only recently have their industrial uses been seriously considered.

A project now is on foot to supply Irtvikjavik with hot water for heating, bathing and washing purposes from one of the neighboring hot springs.

Dick Turpin's Home

It is reported that the reputed home of Dick Turpin, the celebrated highwayman, Percival or Parsifal hall, a fine old mansion in the valley of the Wharfe between Barden and Appleton, Yorkshire, is to be sold. It is a hall with an interesting history. Here it was that William Newson, alias Swift Nick, the original of the traditional Dick Turpin, was wont to spend his time when not engaged in daring exploits on the road. The place is famous, too, as the one-time home of one of Yorkshire's quaintest characters, Parson Heye, while tradition says that one of the most terrible barguests—those ghostly dogs which Yorkshire country people believe walk at night—is to be found near the hall.

Forest of Vallombrosa

The forest of Vallombrosa was founded in the Twelfth century and given its name, which literally translated means "Shadowed Valley," by St. Giovanni Gauberto. It was founded as a monastery and retreat for one of the Benedictine order of monks, and from its early inception the monks took great pride in caring for, cultivating and replanting the forests. The Detroit News notes.

Use of charcoal in Italy has always been very heavy because of its almost universal use for cooking and heating. At Vallombrosa a large quantity has always been made, even in the time of the monks during the Middle ages.

"Take your boots off and count!" was the lightning reply.

LEAGUE OF THIRD-CLASS CITIES TO MEET IN SHARON

Wilkes Barre, August 5.—The program now being arranged for the annual convention of the league of third-class cities of Pennsylvania, which will meet in Sharon September 2, 3 and 4 will be the best ever attempted, according to City Clerk Fred Gates, who is secretary of the league.

Every third class city in the state is a member of the league and most of them will send delegates. It is expected that several hundred delegates and visitors will attend. Several speakers of national reputation will deliver addresses.

GETTING AWAY FROM FAMILY MONOPOLIES

Pittsburgh, Aug. 6.—Family monopolies have been placed under a ban by the Pittsburgh Board of Personal Registration Commissioners in selecting persons to fill 250 vacancies among the district registrars. Every applicant was asked whether any members of his or her families is a state, city or county employee.

The commissioners have decided not to appoint any person whose family already is represented on the public payroll, if some other suitable person can be found to serve.

The commissioners expressed themselves as believing that under their policy a large body of electors will become interested in public affairs and the campaign to increase registration of voters would be helped.

For instance, it was found that one woman applicant for the job had three members of her family already on the city of county payroll.

CONTRACT FOR ROAD COMPLETED

John Herd, of Washington, completed the contract for grading and paving with concrete of about 3,900 feet of roadway on the Canonsburg-Venice-McDonald road yesterday. The work was started June 10 and a number of days were lost on account of bad weather conditions. The concreting was done in seven working days. The stretch improved was the connecting link between Canonsburg and the improved road leading to the Fairhandle district. The contract was awarded by the county commissioners in October, 1923, and the work could not be completed until this summer. The grading required lots of work. The Brush Run road just completed by Mr. Herd will not be thrown open to travel until August 22. The crossing of the improved section near the Tannehill farm will likely be opened to traffic in about a week.

Thought and Work

Great thoughts hallow any labor. Today I earned 75 cents having measure out of a pen, and made a good bargain of it. If the ditcher moses the while how he may live uprightly, the ditching spade and turf knife may be engraved on the coat-of-arms of his posterity.—Thoreau

"FEWER BUT BETTER CHURCHES," MOTTO

New York, August 5.—The annual report of the Congregational churches of the United States has just been made public. A summary made by Rev. Charles E. Burton, the secretary shows a notable tendency towards "fewer churches but better." The denomination reports a loss of one hundred and ten churches, but an increase of 3,322 members. The average membership per church, taking the country over, increased from 147 per church to over 150 members per church. This is accounted for by three reasons:

First, the concentration of population in cities from the country thus making the continuance of rural churches impossible.

Second, the wide use of the automobile allows many country dwellers to go to the town church.

Third, the growing spirit of church union or federation which brings about the union of two or more small churches of various denominations into one strong church.

During the year 33 new churches were organized, and 143 were closed or merged into churches of other denominations. Property values have increased by $8,412,461, bringing it up to $132,388,237. Invested funds of the churches amount to $15,343,948, being an increase of $824,550 in the year.

The annual budgets of the churches reporting amount to $18,261,691, which is $1,479,936 more than the preceding year. This does not include the benevolences of the churches, which total $5,366,181, or $153,965 more than the preceding year.

WITH THE BIRD MEN IN ICELAND

Aboard the U. S. S. Richmond,

Hornafjord, Iceland, August 5.—Today's lap of the American world flight, which was to be resumed by Lieuts. Lowell Smith and Eric Nelson, if weather permitted, was from Hornafjord, skirting the Iceland coast to Reykjavik.

The little naval flotilla that is to guard the route swung into position, the cruiser Raleigh acting as station ship at Hornafjord, the Billingsley going to Portland, the Reid to a point 20 miles off Reykjavik, while the scout cruiser Richmond, acting as flagship, was due at the flyers' destination at 2 p. m.

Conditions appeared fairly good for flying over the 310 mile route around Iceland, but those at Greenland, whether the airmen go next, were reported most unfavorable.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved father. In particular those who sent the beautiful floral tributes and contributed their cars. Mrs. Rosalie Ruuska and family.

GLORIA IN NEW FAME IN PICTURE

Gloria Swanson has done it again! In her new Paramount picture, "Manhandled," now showing at the Coyle Theatre, she has put another crowning performance on top of her three latest, "Zaza," "The Humming Bird," and "A Society Scandal."

"Manhandled" deals with the problems of life in New York as the shop girl finds them, and Miss Swanson, in the role of Tessie McLean, runs the whole gamut of emotions, trying the white lights of Broadway, taking a whirl at being a sculptor's model, spending some time posing in a modiste shop—all for the love of fine clothes and a so-called good time. But she learns in the end that the honest love of Johnny Hogan, a hard-working auto mechanic, is far better than the temporary luxuries showered upon her by sculptors, department store owners, modistes and cigarette manufacturers.

Once more our Glorious Gloria proves that she can do more than just wear clothes well. Not only does she display the flashing dramatic ability that so surprised and delighted her admirers in her previous productions, but in "Manhandled" she blossoms out as a comedienne of the first rank. One of the especially clever bits of comedy imitation she does in the picture is an impersonation of a Russian countess. She puts a Chaplin touch into this scene that undoubtedly adds new laurels to her screen impersonations.

Whether you read the story of "Manhandled" by Arthur Stringer or not, when it was running serially in The Saturday Evening Post, from which the production was adapted by Frank Tuttle, we say, go and see the picture. There's a treat in store for you!

He is survived by his wife and two little sons.

SUFFERED PAIN FOR YEARS

Mrs. Jahr Finally Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Howard Lake, Minnesota.—"I write to let you know that I have taken several bottles of your medicine in the last three months, and found it to be very good. I had pains and other troubles women have and was not able to do my work. Seeing your 'Ad.' in the paper, I thought of giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I got good results from it and feel able to do my housework now. I used to have lots of pains, but after taking the medicine I am relieved from pains that I had suffered from for years. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends, and hope this letter will be satisfactory for you to publish."—Mrs. JENNIE JAHR, R.R. No. 2, Box 31, Howard Lake, Minn.
